Spotlight on : Snowdrops

The snowdrops are out in St. Peter's churchyard! Early this year, but one of their traditional names is "Fair Maids of February", along with "White Ladies" and "Candlemas Bells".

Because they bloom in February, these delicate white flowers are linked to the Candlemas festival (2nd February – see latest podcast), representing the light of Christ being revealed and the purity of the Virgin Mary.

But beyond Candlemas, snowdrops can be symbols of Christian hope, breaking through the death of winter against all odds with the promise of new life, or Christ's light overcoming darkness and bringing resurrection to the soul. They are like a transformation of snow into flower, harbingers of Spring, and with their bowed heads they look as if they're praying.

The poem "Snowdrops" by Louise Glück points to the Easter hope that transcends even the most desperate of situations.

*Do you know what I was, how I lived? You know what despair is; then winter should have meaning for you.
I did not expect to survive, earth suppressing me. I didn't expect to waken again, to feel in damp earth my body able to respond again, remembering after so long how to open again
in the cold light
of earliest spring—
afraid, yes, but among you again
crying yes risk joy
in the raw wind of the new world.*

There's a welcome here for everyone,
all ages from 1 to 100!

What Else?

For families C.a.f.e :

Children's Church C.a.f.e: fun ways for school-aged children to find out more about Jesus each Sunday at 10am (starts and ends in church)

Messy Church C.a.f.e: a different kind of church especially for families with activity-based time, food, songs & fun.

Family Service with Communion C.a.f.e: short relaxed service for the whole church family with child-friendly words, music and involvement – watch out for details of dates.

We are glad to support Little Blossoms Babies and Toddlers at St. Peter's, meeting Mondays

Keep in touch from home or on your phone:

Livestream: most Sundays we livestream the 10am service through our Facebook page.

Dial-in: listen to services live by any phone.

Monthly Podcast: a mix of more contemporary music and reflections around a theme, with interesting conversations between Mark & local people

Facebook: regular postings to keep you informed.

Website: more about what happens at St. Peter's, and why
